WORKSHOP GRATUITO PER DOCENTI DI LINGUA INGLESE

From Speaking Activities to Speaking Progress

Building Oracy from Primary to Middle School through the Trinity Pathway

This 4-hour practical workshop responds directly to these needs. It offers primary and lower secondary English teachers concrete tools to make speaking teachable, assessable, and motivating, while ensuring continuity across school stages.

Starting from the Trinity diagnostic approach, participants will explore how everyday classroom activities can be aligned with the Trinity pathway, gradually preparing learners for successful spoken interaction without “teaching to the test.” Through hands-on activities, bridging tasks, and adaptable speaking routines, teachers will see how oracy can become a shared language between primary and middle school, reducing repetition, gaps, and student frustration.

This is not a theoretical lesson: it is a toolbox for teachers who want students to speak more, with confidence, and with clear progress—even when motivation is low.
